

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Ray went on the solitary walk pictured in this document. The weather was perfect, with clear skies and the temperature in the high 60°s. The walk started at his house and proceeded North along the Lemaster's property dropping into the headwaters of the Proctor Creek watershed near Honey Run. He proceeded to Laurel Point on Proctor Creek and returned by way of the trail to Bee Bee. The total trip was for 11.7 miles.

Hunting Camp

Hunting Camp next to Lemaster's property.

Camp Black Snake

Abandoned camp near Honey Run.

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Palentine Church

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Views along Proctor Creek

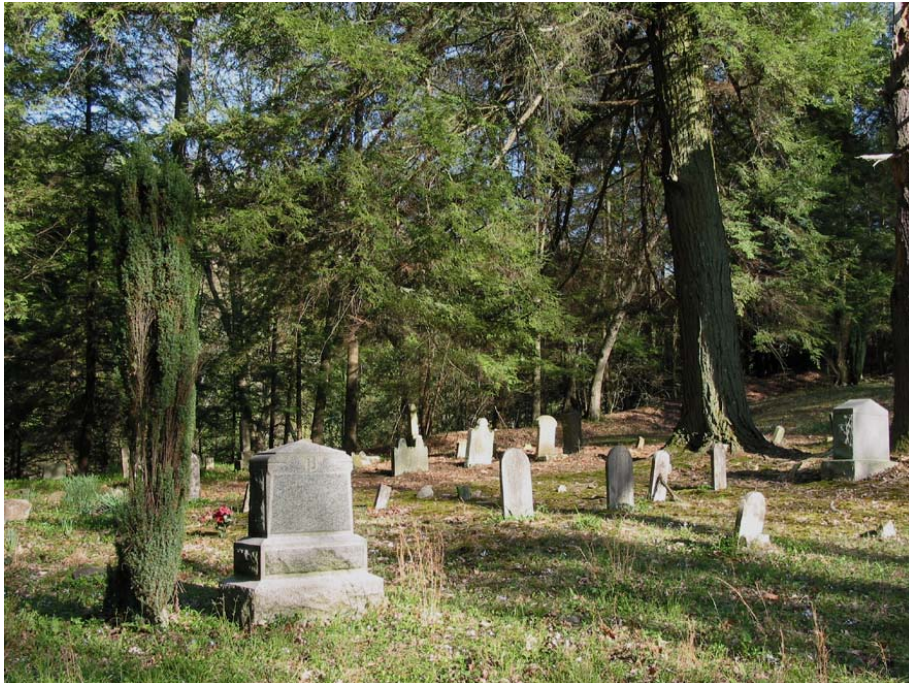

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Is this the Cave?

Laurel Point Cemetery

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Bench Mark

Sample US Coast & Geodic Survey Benchmark below Junior Mason's on Friendship Ridge.

Proctor Creek Walk on April 28, 2006

Altitude Profile of Walk

